Felony Child Stealing Charge Is Dismissed

Felony child stealing charges against Mrs. Marjory Pearson were dismissed by Judge Eugene Theriault yesterday at preliminary hearing in judicial court.

Mrs. Pearson had been charged by her stepson, Dr. Robert Pearson of Marysville, with failing to return the latter's daughter on request. Mrs. Pearson and her husband, also Dr. Robert Pearson who died April 27, had been caring for the girl for approximately seven years at their home in Palm Springs, and earlier in Arcadia, it was reported.

The defendant on the same date as the warrant was signed by the younger Dr. Pearson here, had filed a petition with Superior Court in Indio seeking guardianship of the child. Hearing on this matter has been set for May 17.

Thief Steals $30 From Newsboy

The future was pretty bleak today for newspaper carrier boy David Simmings, of 628 Desert Way.

The youngster told police that someone took a sack containing more than $30 in change, representing profits from his paper sales, from his home yesterday.

IF YOU FIND TABU, DON'T RUN, BECAUSE HE'S NOT

Don't be alarmed if you run across a strange, striped "kitty" wandering around the Village — Tabu doesn't live up to his name.

Tabu the pet skunk of Lester Selig, of 844 Mission Road, strayed off from his home last night. Selig told police the animal is "deodorized" and, in fact, is downright friendly. If you run across Tabu, please walk — you don't have to run to the nearest telephone and call Selig. He's eager to get his scentless pal back again.

Council Ends Peveler Lot Talk, Orders Fire Station

The controversial issue of the future use of the city owned Peveler Lot, was resolved by unanimous vote last night when the City Council voted to direct architects to proceed with preliminary plans to construct a new fire station on the lot.

For a year and a half, businessmen in the area of the Peveler Lot have strived to set up an off-street parking assessment district, and have continually appeared before the council asking that they be allowed to circulate a petition. The attempt has been unsuccessful.

IN THE FIRE station site plan submitted to the City Council and the planning commission, Simon Eisner, special planning consultant, called the Peveler Lot "second only the Neel Property to the north, and it has all the advantages plus the fact that it is owned by the city."

The city purchased the lot for $43,000 in 1955, and it is 100 feet

Ike Makes Appeal for Foreign Aid

Confers With 27 Congressmen; Cuts Half Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower made a strong appeal to Republican and Democratic congressional leaders today for passage of a foreign aid program of at least $3,880,000,000 for fiscal 1958.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said after the White House conference of more than 90 minutes that Eisenhower probably will submit his detailed program to Congress early next week.

THE PRESIDENT originally asked $4,400,000,000 for the mutual security program. Today, he scaled it down to $2,800,000,000 for military assistance and $1,080,000,000 for economic aid.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he understood from the President's presentation today that the reduction of slightly more than 500 million dollars will be a real saving, not just deferred spending.

IN VIEW OF THE apparent difference of opinion between Eisenhower and Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey over government spending, Johnson said, it will be up to Congress to decide what the final foreign aid figure will be.

"We are confronted with the problem of one voice saying that we must reduce spending or have a hair-curling depression and another voice saying, 'If you do, you will endanger the peace and security of the nation,'" Johnson said.

Twenty seven members of Congress, 14 Democratic House and Senate leaders and 13 House and Senate Republicans, took part in the meeting.

Indians, Bureau Agree on Basic Equalization Bill

Members of the Agua Caliente Band of Mission Indians held a special Tribal meeting yesterday to discuss the land equalization bill which the Bureau of Indian Affairs proposes to introduce into Congress at the earliest possible moment.

Rough drafts for equalization bills were the subject of several days of conferences in Washington between Bureau officials and Tribal delegates including Tribal Attorney Raymond C. Simpson, and a bill was drafted by the Bureau which incorporated both the Bureau's and the Tribe's thinking.

The bill was explained by Simpson at the special meeting of the Tribe, held at the Prairie Schooner Trailer Park, and later discussed by Tribal members. When hearings are held before appropriate Congressional committees, Tribal representatives will appear to give testimony.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The death penalty is "archaic and ineffective" and a denial of "the basic Christian doctrine" of forgiveness and mercy, according to western Episcopal Church leaders.

Beck, Brewer Charged With Abnormal Business Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) charged today that one of the nation's biggest brewers "engaged in an abnormal business relationship" with Teamsters Union President Dave Beck to get information on its competitors.

Sen. Kennedy, a member of the Senate Labor Rackets Committee, tongue-lashed John L. Wilson, executive vice president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., brewers of Budweiser and other beers.

THE COMMITTEE is investigating charges that Beck misused his power as union president to further his own purse.

Sen. Kennedy said evidence showed that Anheuser-Busch gave Beck the nation's largest Budweiser distributorship, shipped him special orders of beer when the supply was short, offered to buy him out at a high price after having trouble with him, and extended credit so someone else could buy him out.

SEN. KENNEDY added that Wilson testified he called on Beck to settle a construction strike at an Anheuser-Busch plant in Los Angeles. He charged that Wilson

80 Blazes Reported in New England

Officials Predict 'All Hell to Break Loose Today'

BOSTON (AP) — Flaming Massachusetts woodlands caused a state of emergency Wednesday night and a forestry official predicted "all hell will break loose" today.

The state was the worst hit in a rash of forest and brush fires which continued to sweep across New England. More than 80 blazes were reported, 14 of which assumed major proportions.

Other brush and forest fires were reported in Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, and Rhode Island.

IN MASSACHUSETTS, the worst forest fire outbreak in ten years prompted Gov. Foster Furcolo to declare a state of emergency Wednesday night as two major forest fires raged out of control. Some fires were believed to be the work of arsonists.

State Commissioner of Natural Resources Francis W. Sargent said, "The situation will probably get worse before it gets better. We expect all hell to break loose when the stiff winds return."

The weather Bureau has predicted another hot, gusty day today.

NEAR PLYMOUTH, which is now threatened, an unchecked inferno raged over eight square miles of woodlands and charged the Atlantic Ocean, destroying about 15 small cottages near the shore. A 2,000 man force fought the blaze which was driven by a 30-mile-an-hour wind.

Another uncontrolled fire raged near Otis Air Force Base and the town of Mashpee on Cape Cod. The blaze started when a flaming jet plane crashed into the woods killing the pilot, 1st Lt. Donald J. Flower of Yonkers, N.Y.

Nearly 3,000 firefighters, many of them airmen, subdued the blaze early Wednesday evening but it broke out anew at midnight. At one time the fire raged within 100 yards of the Mashpee Town Hall and a dozen men were reported burned or injured in the battle, none seriously. More than 1,500 acres of woodland were destroyed.

WANDERING YOUTH IS OCCUPATIONAL RISK FOR OFFICER

A 12-year-old Palm Springs boy stung by wanderlust is rapidly developing into an occupational hazard for Police Juvenile Officer T. M. Aitken.

Aitken found the youngster tucked into a sleeping bag on the desert last night. The boy had been sleeping there since he ran away from home Friday night.

It was the sixth desert sojourn for the prodigal youth. It was likewise the sixth trip for Aitken, who is sporting a well-scratched cheek as the result of a tangle with a bramble bush while looking for the boy.

Warring Central Americas Agree On Settlement

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Nicaragua and Honduras will announce today acceptance of a plan by the Organization of American States to prevent new clashes in their border dispute, informed sources said.

The plan, concerning the regulation of troop movements, has been worked out by an OAS military mission headed by U.S. Army Col. A. A. Greene.

ACCEPTANCE WILL be effected by agreements between the OAS and each country separately rather than an agreement between Nicaragua and Honduras.

Details of the agreements were not made public in advance. Honduras charged Wednesday that a ship from the Dominican Republic had taken a cargo of arms, planes and pilots to Nicaragua.

CORINNE GRIFFITH, former motion picture and stage star who has been waging a campaign throughout the United States for abolition of the individual federal income tax, will be the guest speaker at the Friday noon luncheon meeting of the Palm Desert Rotary Club at the Shadow Mountain Club. Teacher Salary Increase to Be Decided Tonight

First action on a proposed $65,425 annual salary increase for Palm Springs Unified School District teachers was scheduled for the Board of Education meeting tonight at Frances Stevens School.

The revised salary schedule, which would make teachers of the Palm Springs district the highest paid in Riverside County, covers salary hikes in four categories of district personnel.

Recommended by Schools Supt. Wallace Muelder, the proposal asks for an average yearly increase of $346 for teachers, bringing the average salary to $6,275. Similar increases are asked for certified administrative employees, classified personnel and administrative staff members.

The proposal was introduced at the April 23 board meeting, but action was deferred until tonight, pending further board study.

Officials Close Arizona School Of Short Creek

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP)—Officials are closing the school in the desolate Arizona community of 'Short Creek, inhabited by members of an extremist religious sect, because of charges that at least two eighth grade girls were pregnant.

E. Ray Brown, principal of the Short Creek school, also charged that the sect, an offshoot disowned by the Latter-day Saints Church, again is practicing polygamy.

Brown was reported as saying that during the last year two eighth-grade girls left school because they became pregnant. "That's not polygamy, that's white slavery," the school principal was quoted as saying. "The devil is the real mastermind in Short Creek!"

Brown's charges about polygamy were denied by Richard Brook, Mojave County chief juvenile probation officer. Brook said he and Sheriff Frank Porter went to Short Creek Monday and "found nothing to substantiate" Brown's charges.

THE ALLEGED resurgence in polygamy at the remote hamlet near the Utah border has drawn the attention of Arizona Attorney General Robert Morrison, who was reported to be considering closing the town due to the charges.

This isolated Arizona strip community gained fame in 1953 when law enforcement officers staged a pre-dawn raid and arrested 26 Short Creek husbands for living in polygamy, a tenet of their religion.

Prince Charles Has Surgery for Tonsils, Adenoids

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles underwent his first surgery for removal of his tonsils and adenoids, in a specially built operating room at Buckingham Palace today.

Two renowned surgeons, an anesthesiologist and four nurses took part in the operation on the eight-year-old prince, while Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh waited nearby.

A medical bulletin afterward said Charles' condition was "very satisfactory." But he will have to spend at least a week in bed recuperating, palace sources said.

Mayor Florian Boyd declared a 10 minute recess after the council had received testimony in a public hearing on a request by Pat Martin to install lights on a golf driving range on East Palm Canyon Drive, and the body quickly moved into the women's lounge of the city hall to discuss the matter.

As the door closed to the small room, Councilman Jerry Sanborn turned to newsmen waiting in the hallway and said, "They are not going to change my mind." He continually backed the request, stating that he believed more recreational facilities during the summer were not detrimental to the community.

One of the supporters of the application presented the council with a petition containing 75 names of persons wanting the lighted golf range, with seven of these being residents of the immediate area. Approximately a half dozen persons appeared to testify against the conditional use permit request.

Convicts Spend Hungry Night

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP)—Rebellious convicts, who rioted at North Dakota State Penitentiary, spent a cold and hungry night in a cell-block with broken windows.

The 200 inmates tried to sleep on empty stomachs when the mercury spiraled downward to near the first point.

None of the prisoners had eaten since breakfast Tuesday shortly before a sitdown strike in the prison twine factory erupted into a four-hour riot that finally was subdued by a flying wedge of guards with guns blazing.

"There are signs the prisoners are coming around," Warden O. J. Nygaard said. "We are not rushing things."

The warden planned to hold the surly and defiant prisoners shivering in their cold, damp cells without meals until they indicate willingness to return to their prison jobs quietly.

Congress Has 'Be Mean to Everybody' Day Wednesday

WASHINGTON, (AP)—It was be-mean-to-everybody today in Congress.

Warm spring weather stirred the sap in the old trees on Capitol Hill Wednesday while inside the Capitol bile-dipped arrows filled the air.

Cabinet members particularly were in season.

REP. ROBERT W. Kean (R-N.J.) said if Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would do "less talking" with reporters there would be less "confusion" about American foreign policy.

Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) said Congress "has been derelict in its duty" to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

"Long ago it should have offered him a one-way ticket to Utah,"

SENATE DEMOCRATIC Leader Lyndon B. Johnson took a shot at the head man himself. Johnson said President Eisenhower's defense of his budget and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's request for more postal funds looked "something like the old shell game."

"Now you see it, now you don't," he said.

A little earlier Gen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) said he wanted to call everyone's attention to the fact that most of the defense of the Eisenhower program was coming from the Democrats.

HE SUGGESTED that the best thing for the President to do would be to switch parties.

Then Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, (R-Wis.) took on the entire U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

O'Konski said the chamber "yells against sensible spending at home but urges bigger and better foreign aid giveaways."

He said possibly "the chamber thinks taking aids from the blind, sick and crippled so that they can give it to England is economy."

Finally, even capital news-photographers got into the spirit of the day when one of the President's new helicopters almost landed them at the White House.

However, their comments are being withheld because of postal regulations.

Nearly 30,000 Canadians become citizens of the United States every year.

EDWARD J. LAUNER, of San Francisco, second from right, vice president and statewide appraisal department head of the Bank of America, is convinced there's no water shortage in California when it concerns, of all places, the desert. In Southern California for a water availability inspection of new developments, Launer was astonished by the super-abundance of water supplies at Bermuda Dunes, newest desert community in the Palm Springs resort area. Shown above with him are, from left: Manager Arthur L. Cooper, of Indio's Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association and brother of Movie Actor Gary Cooper; Bermuda Dunes co-founder Terry Ray and Ernie Dunlevie and Manager Thomas J. Mullan, of Indio's Bank of America. Behind the group is the 75 foot high waterfall which cascades down a pyramid of natural boulders and feeds a remarkable fresh water lake called Lake Bermuda. Bermuda Dunes, larger in area than nearby Indio, is free of water shortage problems because of a series of underground lakes discovered by Ray and Dunlevie while searching for an ideal golf course site. Sheriff Issues Blasting Cap Warning Blasting caps can maim, blind and kill. With that grim note, Sheriff Joe Rice today issued a warning about the danger of blasting caps to all youngsters and their parents.

Every year scores of boys and girls are hurt in blasting cap accidents, the sheriff pointed out, and warned children "if you find a blasting cap, leave it where it is and call me or some other grownup. Don't pick it up. Don't touch it — not even with a ten-foot pole."

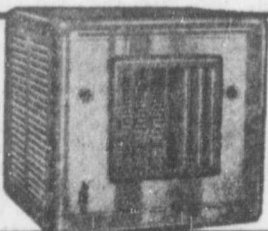

THE SHERIFF described caps as being small, metallic cylinders about as big around as a lead pencil and varying in length from one inch to five and a half inches. One type has an open end and is fired by flame from a fuse. Another has two covered wires coming out of one end and is fired by electric current. Both kinds are dangerous. Shock, heat or careless handling can set-off the caps which are loaded with a sensitive explosive.

Sheriff Rice, who is pressing this safety drive at the request of the National Sheriff's Association and the Institute of Makers of Explosives, had this safe and sound advice for parents: "Teach your children to know a blasting cap at sight. Insist they shun a cap as they would a rattlesnake. That's the only way to play safe with a blasting cap."

KEEP YOUR PILLS
IN A SAFE PLACE

Parents of Palm Springs should heed the warning published in The Desert Sun recently that more small children are being poisoned by getting into the aspirin bottle than any other dangerous product kept in the average home. Most parents have developed the habit of being cautious about only those products such as ant paste which are clearly labeled as poisonous.

Most people are not aware of the fact that aspirin can be very dangerous to small children when consumed in considerable quantities. More than one hundred thousand children were rushed to hospitals last year after eating aspirin tablets. This should make parents aware that they need to be as careful about keeping the popular headache remedy out of the reach of their children.

Parents Need Protecting Too

There are probably too many pills kept in the average home nowadays anyway. Sleeping pills and other barbiturates are too easy to obtain and often used in excess. An overdose of barbiturates can be fatal and they are frequently used in attempted suicides.

Oliver B. Jaynes

People have a growing tendency to use such stimulants as a "crutch"—an escape from physical or mental problems that should be treated by physicians.

Many states are considering legislation under which only persons with a doctor's prescription or authorized handlers of the drugs would be allowed to possess them. It should also be made difficult to get refills of prescriptions unless there is a procedure for checking with the doctor as to such advisability.

A prominent doctor in one of the Eastern cities where the problem has become acute is quoted as saying that appropriate control of such drugs would serve to diminish the sordid results of their improper use and also to place such drugs in their rightful position as medicine of great benefit when prescribed by physicians trained to use them properly.

Parents can keep their dangerous drugs away from their children by using ordinary precaution but it is going to take stricter laws to keep the mothers and fathers from the promiscuous use of sleeping pills and stimulants.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Absentee Statesmanship

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Some-where on their futuristic pink clouds I would bet the unborn historians are using both ends of their pencils to get the correct equation for President Eisenhower's golf clubs. Should they be equated with Nero's fiddle? Should they be likened to Grant's whiskey, the brand of which Lincoln recommended to his losing generals? Should they be compared with Toscanini's baton, leading the Free World's symphony through renditions of immense complexity?

Given pencils with lead on one end and erasers on the other, historians-to-be need not show their work in public until it is, as has been said, "With passion and revised with phlegm." But those of us who cover the running story have little chance to hedge our opinions of the President's foreign policy. Basically, we are proponents of one of these theories—Nero, Grant or Toscanini.

FRANKLY, I'M A school man of the second part—a Grantist. Mr. Eisenhower was in Augusta when the latest squall blew up in the Middle East. While he swung his sticks along the fairway, Colonel Nasser rejected our terms for management of the Suez Canal and laid down his own; while Ike was between strokes King Hussein of Jordan declared martial law, and the U. S. Sixth Fleet headed for the trouble zone.

Wherever newsmen gathered in Washington, or wherever their paths crossed, there were sarcastic gibes and merry quips about Ike's absence: "When do the Eisenhoweres move in?" asked a fellow reporter as we taxied past the White House, where hundreds of tourists were queued up for a visit. "Did you catch him at the 9th green?" somebody stage-whispered when the Secretary of State remarked at a press conference that he had conferred with the president by telephone.

AMONG NEWSMEN, the Nero theory commands a clear majority. If you believe that matters of judgment can be decided by a nose-count, then it must be true that our world is throwing smoke and being licked by hungry tongues of flame. The Nero theory blames Mr. Eisenhower for his apparent ignorance, indifference or inability, depending upon who is expounding the proposition.

The Neroists look upon the President, now in his fifth year of office, as an amiable figurehead who never bothered to learn what his job is all about because the Palace Guard tells him what to do and say.

It is a theory which gets support from the President's absenteeism and from his uneven performance in press conferences. There are subjects which he obviously knows from first hand knowledge; there are others on which he seems hazy and even uninformed.

BUT THE TOSCANINI theory has its spokesmen, too. As the Maestro presiding over his "team" of harmonizers, Mr. Eisenhower is not expected to produce music—just leadership for the other musicians.

Thus Secretary Dulles coaxes from his instrument the right sounds to soothe (or at least confuse) the savage breast of nations; Secretary Wilson gives forth thuds and booms which produce another effect, and so on throughout the Cabinet and the brain trust.

The general theme of the orchestration is "peace," and only the scoffers and the congenial naysayers can deny that Ike has called this welcome tune since the very day of his first oath-taking.

BOTH THE NERO and the Toscanini theories, however, go to the extremes of explanation. They have the absurdity of exaggeration. The President is no fiddler, and no maestro, either. But if we look upon Ike's golf-playing as a recreational habit, with no necessary relationship to his work, we are approaching Lincoln's shrewd, common-sense attitude toward Grant's fondness for whiskey.

Many persons in Civil War Washington maligned and ridiculed General Grant. But Old Abe, and the country at large, had an eye for the main issue only—Grant was a winner of battles.

AND SO, IN A different sense, is Mr. Eisenhower. His budget is too big, his reliance on the United Nations is too great, his snarl of entangling alliances looks like a squirming nest of snakes. In short, Ike has not broken from the Roosevelt-Truman example—except in one respect.

The Roosevelt-Truman years brought us progressively closer to war—and everybody knew it. The best opinion today is that from 1933-37, we have inched our way toward the victory called peace. Many of the world crisis that is overcome by the absentee treatment.

article he wrote and published in his newspaper was entered in the U. S. Congressional Record. I am sure his article was an effort to show how the government was—shall we say using the taxpayers' money carelessly but who pays for the "too large" Congressional Records? I have often wondered if the taxpayer gets full value for cost of having the almost unlimited amount of material entered in the record.

CLEAN OWN HOUSE

(Williamsburg, Va., Virginia Gazette)
Senator Knowland (R. Calif.) this week urged union leaders to "clean their own house" to avoid possible punitive legislation as the result of disclosures in the Senate rackets investigation. Knowland, Senate Republican leader, told reporters he believes "as a matter of fairness" the unions ought to have the opportunity to demonstrate that the alleged mishandling of funds by some labor leaders indicate only isolated "bad spots" in organized labor's record.

What is so rare as a day in June?
(A top cent in Palm Springs!)
So do not plan to leave too soon,
You'll miss a lot of things.

See, what did I tell you about May? (At least, up to the time this is being stroked through the typewriter—Wednesday, early in the aye.)
June will be nice, too.

AM WORKING on a new project and was so engrossed I almost forgot to write this column. Every morning before they start sending news on our United Press teletype, they send through a test sentence. One that contains every letter of the alphabet.

"The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dogs."
Sometimes they test so long that the fast little reynard does the long hurdles over the indolent canines for more than five yards worth of paper.

I AM GETTING so tired of coming down to the office in the cool, delightful dawn and discovering that what I thought was a lot of important news on the TT was only the impetuous fox doing his calisthenics a couple of hundred times.

So this is my new project. I am trying to work out a coherent sentence which contains all of the letters of the alphabet. I have devised some but they either (a) are unfit for public appearance or (b) do not make sense.

But when I do finally get one, I am going to send it to the United Press with the suggestion that they use it and thus retire the fox to become a Jumper Emeritus.

The substitution will also bring the jangled nerves of the lazy dogs back to normal.

WAS TALKING to a Banning citizen the other day and he took me and the other citizens of Palm Springs to task.

"You Palm Springs people were always hollering about the so-called 'Banning Bottleneck' whenever you had your annual Desert Circus or the India Fair was under way or the wild flowers were in bloom.

"Said our traffic jam was discouraging people from coming to the desert, it took so long.

"YOU SQUAWKED so loud and so long that the state finally built a by-pass freeway and the trip through Banning is now just a breeze.

"But—the other week I had occasion to go to Palm Desert and headed this way on Highway 111. 'Banning bottleneck' Huh! Took me more than an hour to ease down Palm Canyon Drive.

"Don't tell me I should have gone over to Indian Avenue. I couldn't. The 'No Left Turn' signs were up.

"Why don't YOU people get busy?
"Get a by-pass freeway through traffic. The people who want to come here will come anyway and you'll get rid of the trucks."

He might have something there.

And this little saying by Cy N. Peace which I read the other day I'd like to pass along:
"A psychiatrist's job is no bed of roses. It is a couch of neurosis."

INEZ ROBB:

Take Cake, Frosting Too

There is one built-in feature of the Communists that for years has left me speechless with admiration. Well, almost speechless. And that is their unmitigated gall. You have to hand it to them—for sheer, unadulterated brass. The Russians take the three-tiered cake with the two-tone frosting.

You have to admire the unabashed nerve of the latest Russian aide memoir to the U. S. State Department, protesting a "hostile campaign to defame the Soviet embassy," in view of the long surveillance, petty harassments, often-active antagonism and stupid vexations practiced on the U. S. diplomatic corps in Moscow by the Kremlin.

OF COURSE, the aide memoir (a diplomatic term for official belying that does not carry quite the serious connotations of a "note") was the usual smart Russian maneuver to attack in order to deflect attention from the fact that Uncle Sam has just given another Russian diplomat the bum's rush for "improper activities" in the United States.

Genadi F. Mashkantev, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, was given his walking papers for abusing his diplomatic privileges in trying to put the arm on Peter Pirgov, a former Red Air Force officer living in Virginia, to return to mother Russia.

PIROGOV WAS not the only Russian refugee whom Mashkantev was trying by forgery and cajolery to persuade to return to the U. S. S. R. If Communism's unmitigated gall fascinates me, so, in equal measure, does it unrelenting and worldwide campaign by every kind of double-whammy hook-and-crook to force refugees from its tyranny to return to Russia.

Russian diplomats, often police officials in striped pants complete with cookie-pusher, have been caught in this sort of extra-curricular work in many parts of the democratic world.

Nor is Mashkantev the first secret cop-in-cutaway to be given the heave by Uncle Sam for such dirty work. What animates the Kremlin to pursue Russian refugees with such deadly determination probably would keep a psychiatrist employed indefinitely. The few who escape through the Iron Curtain represent such a minuscule portion of the Russian population that their pursuit seems a ridiculous tempest in a teapot.

BUT IT IS MY guess that the Communist ego, as nurtured in the Kremlin hothouse, cannot stand the criticism that a handful of refugees at large in the world represents or implies.

Obviously, refugees would not flee Russia if they were deliriously happy with Communism and the world it creates for them. Ergo, they are dissatisfied. Hence they stand before the world as a vivid form of criticism and rebuke to Communism.

So the Kremlin, unable to stand criticism in any form, hunts down the refugees and begins to apply the pressure to return, pressures in a hundred different forms, from active kidnapping to subtle appeals from hamstrung infinkles.

IF A CITIZEN of the U. S. or Britain or France thinks he can get a better deal behind the Iron Curtain, Americans, Britishers and French may think he's crazy, but it's his funeral. Not so the Russians. The implied criticism of the Communist paradise inherent in each runaway is more than the Commies and their old inferiority complex can stand.

Thus they track the man down and begin to lower the boom. And when caught in the act, they fill the heavens with cries of "foul," with enough injured gall to abash a brass knocker.

WASHINGTON—Former President Truman, on Republican power policies:

"Their idea of partnership is where everything is divided even-ly—the electric company gets the powerhouse and government gets the fish ladder. And if I know them, they'll charge the fish tolls to get up the ladder."

Some of my dear but smart aleck friends have from time to time leveled the charge against yours truly—that the curvaceous figure of the opposite sex no longer causes me to turn my head... to gaze enraptured.

Certainly do not wish to debate the subject in this column. Because of the very nature of the subject the paragraphs below could and would sizzle. Furthermore, we could name a few of the males about town whose eyes cross on occasion due to the intense heat generated in the minds of some of these aging Lotharios.

BUT BE ALL OF the above as it may, if some of our bragging friends had watched me in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi the other night they may have exclaimed "see I told you so" about me, with some truth in their accusations.

Lili St. Cyr, who has appeared on the same stage for several years in succession, left me absolutely cold with her new act. I do not know how the audience responded to her performance on other nights, but the crowd there the night I was present reacted just about the same as I did. The applause was there alright, but scattered and too, too brief compared with her appearances in the Starlite Room in years back.

LUIS AMANDO, an up and coming young man with a terrific baritone voice, kept the crowd enthralled. He's going to places that will lead to high places in his world of music. And between this young singer and Patty Moore and Ben Lessy, the time you spend in the Starlite Room is more than worthwhile.

The laughter that roared up at Patty Moore and Ben Lessy was almost deafening. These two veteran performers with talent born of long experience on the stage just about wrap up the show. I haven't laughed so hard in a long time, as at the antics and songs of this team.

RACED BACKSTAGE to catch Ben and Patty Moore and arrange an interview with the couple. Later the three of us sat down for a chat and it was most entertaining as well as interesting.

Patty Moore and her husband,

Sam Lewis, worked as a team for 25 years and traveled the world over with a song, comedy and dance routine. Patty's husband today produces the show for the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas. She is a smash partner in the act with Ben Lessy.

BEN, BY THE WAY, never played any of the circuits when vaudeville was at its height but he did play clubs and theaters around New York and across the nation. He was born in Manhattan and reared in Brooklyn. And, believe it or not, I learned that Ellery Queen, the famed author, engaged Ben Lessy to play in his dance band as a drummer. And Ben can play the piano today as well, and his comedy at the ivory keys has the crowd roaring. Saw him play a tune at the Ranch Club Sunday with his nose.

Now I do not mean to indicate above that Lili St. Cyr doesn't give a worthwhile performance, but I learned one thing, that theatrical talent, either in comedy song or dance by far outshines nudity.

DON CAMERON, who did not listen to his lovely wife, Isabelle wrote the copy for an ad congratulating Hank Gogerty on his determined and successful fight to gain quarterhorse racing for Rancho Mirage. Isabelle had suggested that Bill Rashall write the copy. Well, Don forgot to name the man whom he was congratulating.

E. Kenneth Todd, owner and publisher of the Rockford, Illinois Register-Republic and who simply loves Palm Springs, sent a giant postcard to my boss, Ward Risvold, with the following message:

"SO YOU THINK Palm Springs has all the first-class night clubs. Come out and spend July and August in America!"

Imagine broiling in Illinois during July and August when it's so lovely here in Palm Springs. The giant postcard pictured a club in Rockford that would fit in one tiny corner of the Chi Chi.

Mr. Todd and his wife, Mary, will be out here next Winter when the snow in Rockford is shoulder high and no club is an inducement to venture out of dogs.

Slugger Worries Pop on 3 a.m. Date

NEW YORK—I find it hard to cogitate about Big News because I've just seen my son Slugger in his first dinner jacket (rented)—complete with plaid tie and cummerbund.

When he wasn't home from the dance at 3 a.m., I'm not sure who was more nervous—his two grandmothers, or my B.W. who sat up all night arguing, seemingly with herself:

"But he said he might stop for a soda when he took the girl home!"

MAYBE IT WAS his father who kept plodding from his typewriter to the window to gaze into the street.

At 3:30 he came in full of news about a wondrous cab driver named Shortie, who'd taken them to a hamburger spot.

"You shouldn't go into those places late at night," scolded the B.W.

"Oh, it was safe," replied Slug.

"Shortie came in and had one with us!"

MARILYN MONROE and Arthur Miller met with Photog Richard Avedon ("Yeepp" Milton H. Greene's successor as MM's personal photog) to plan a joint portrait.

"For that," said Miller, who's never been anxious to pose, "I'll even shave... for my mother's sake."

JAN MITCHELL, owner of Luchow's, has a fortune in art by Cezanne, Picasso, Chagall and Miro—but he has no "collages" (miscellaneous objects such as shells, coins and junk pasted up on canvas).

TV star Sam Levenson told Vic Hammer of Hammer's Art Gallery, how three little ragged teenagers wandered into a gallery, and stared in amazement at a "collage."

"Let's get out of here fast!" said the oldest boy. "They'll say we did it!"

JET PASSENGER planes which in 1959 will make flights from N.Y. to L.A. in 4 hours will do away with most sleeping berths on domestic flights. "Passengers will then be doing their sleeping in hotels," says Rex Smith of American Airlines. "And do you know who's going to cooperate to the fullest with us? The hotels."

Bruce Barton, J. P. McEvoy, and Lowell Thomas were at the Dutch Treat Club—but I was with Homer Croy, the humorist and novelist, who has the craziest hobby yet. He gets stationery from Alcatraz, Sing Sing, the Dept. of Internal Revenue, and even African ivory hunters—and writes to apprehensive friends. "How do you get stationery from prisons?" I asked him, and he said, "Well, I send them in some pistols and they bring me some stationery out."

The so-called "progressive," the "liberals" who are constantly attacking our American profit and loss system of business, are all advocates of some form of Socialism.

Some advocate the Soviet style, some the Swedish type of Welfare State, and some the English style of "Conservative Socialism."

The silly part of all this is that the Soviet type, in 40 years, has produced a living standard only about one-tenth as good as ours, the Swedes have a living standard about a third as high as ours, and in England, after a dozen years of Socialism, the living standard is not quite half as good as America's.

Congressman Tells of Trip to Home District

By D. S. SAUND
29th Congressional District
I have just returned to Washington from a strenuous but highly enjoyable and profitable visit to the District.

I had a splendid opportunity to meet with many individuals, address several gatherings and discuss important legislation in an intimate fashion with different governing agencies, including the board of supervisors and irrigation district boards.

Large evening dinner meetings were held at Riverside, Blythe and Imperial, and the response to my story of my everyday work here in Washington, including the small things I have been able to accomplish so far, was encouraging and reassuring.

THE IMPERIAL County Board of Supervisors, the Farm Bureau Board and Imperial Irrigation District Board held detailed discussions with me of small and large problems—affecting the people of Imperial Valley—that can be handled at the federal level.

At these meetings and at meetings with Riverside County officials, I was impressed with the sincere tone of these leaders. It convinced me that there is going to be teamwork among all the elected representatives of the people of the 29th Congressional District.

THE SPIRIT of cooperation extended to me was exemplified by the Coachella Valley County Water District Board. Because of my tight schedule, the directors offered to meet with me at the only available time—at breakfast eight o'clock on Saturday morning.

My talks with irrigation district leaders at Coachella, El Centro and Blythe gave me assurance that, working together, we are going to put up a hard and uncompromising fight against the dread Frying Pan-Arkansas Project.

May 15 Atomic Test Postponed

LAS VEGAS — "Technical preparations" have forced a one-day delay on the scheduled May 15 atomic test blast at the Nevada Proving Grounds, the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed Tuesday.

Scheduled to let loose a force of something less than the "nominal yield" of 20,000 tons of equivalent TNT force, the May 16 blast is the first of a series of some 12 experiments with atomic devices at the proving grounds 90 miles from here.

Burglary Prevention Week Is Being Observed in Village

The week of May 5 through 11 is being observed as Burglary Prevention Week in Palm Springs and California, Police Chief August G. Kettmann reported today.

Experienced burglars know when to invade a house, he said. It's up to the home owner to fool him by creating the impression someone is home, though the house may be empty.

The police chief said that many people leave their homes for an evening, weekend, or vacation, and fail to take the simple precautions dictated by good common sense. These citizens would not think of leaving the front door open or hanging up a sign reading "Burglars Welcome — Nobody Home Here," yet, give all the indications necessary, such as newspapers piled at the front door, a totally dark house, or even worse, lights left burning 24 hours a day.

"WE KNOW THE results of such action — crime and more crime," Kettmann said.

"Last year, there was a burglary about every 1 1/4 minutes in this country. It's an alarming figure, but many can be prevented by following the simple precautions when leaving for several days or longer.

1. Do leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off regularly each evening. This makes the home 'lived-in' and is your best protective measure.

2. Do cancel all deliveries including milk, newspapers, etc. Have the post office or a neighbor hold your mail until you return.

3. Do close and lock all windows and doors, including basement, porch and garage. Use pin tumbler cylinder locks on all exterior doors. They are still the most secure key operated locking device ever devised.

4. DO HAVE YOUR lawn mowed and sidewalk swept by a neighbor at least once a week.

5. Do tell one neighbor you are leaving. Have them check your house periodically and notify the police if they see anyone prowling around.

6. Do notify your local police officials as to the date you are leaving and when you will return.

7. Don't close blinds or draw shades, leave them as you normally do when you are home.

8. DON'T LEAVE valuables lying around the house. Place them in a safety deposit box.

9. Don't tell friends, neighbors, or work associates of the valuable possessions you have around the house.

Free Zinnia Seeds Offered by Farmers' Fair

Free zinnia seeds—of superior quality and in the widest range of colors from bold bright reds to soft pastel pinks — have been offered to everyone for the asking, compliments of the Farmers' Fair of Riverside County at Hemet.

Again this spring, packets of seeds will be given away to encourage showing of blooms at the Farmers' Fair, scheduled this year Aug. 21 through 25, according to Fair Manager Bud Nelson.

And they're available now, through the planting season, calendared by zinnia experts as the first two weeks of June for top blooming at fairtime.

The seeds may be picked up at the Hemet Fairgrounds office or will be mailed upon request to those writing to the Farmers' Fair of Riverside County, P. O. Box 398, Hemet.

There are more than 25 competitive classes for zinnias offered by the fair with cash awards in each section.

Bank Officials Honor Giannini

For the eighth year since his death in 1949, Bank of America officers and staff members in the Palm Springs Branch again joined their co-workers throughout California and the world this week in brief ceremonies observing the birthday of A. P. Giannini, founder of the statewide bank.

Under the direction of Fred Ingram, vice president and manager of the branch, the staff heard a message from President S. Clark Beise which paid tribute to Giannini on his 87th birthday and described the day as one of rededication by staff members to the principles and ideals of the founder.

Dear Hank:

Congratulations to a fighting Irishman, who just wouldn't give up with the cards stacked against him.

We've gone through a lot since you arrived in 1938 and you've never stopped as one of the biggest contributors to the progress of our area.

MAY must be your month. It was May 1950, when you and I, Cliff Henderson, Harry Oliver, and the visionary road supervisor, A. C. Keith opened Del Sol Road.

Thursday's ground breaking was the tops! And didn't it swell your heart to have so many of the "KINFOLK" there?

Your development has vindicated the opening of Del Sol Road

Now Let's Get the Very Important Ave. 40 Opened!

Cadillac

Third Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say.

And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families.

For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel.

We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality.

For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit.

Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene.

And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality.

The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation!

Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists.

If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!

Doodles by ROGER PRICE. 'FISH THAT LIVES IN A WHIRLPOOL'. The Fish in this Doodle is a Tropical Fish that was caught by my friend, Dr. Schwine, with a baited Screw-driver. He has many other unique varieties in his Aquarium. Such as: (1) The Invisible Crydora. A Fish that costs 75 Dollars and oddly enough most people can't see them. Not at those prices anyway. (2) The Neon Tetra. These Fish actually light up in 5 brilliant colors. No Males or Females in this type... just AC or DC. (3) Giant Guppy. Full grown, this one is 22 inches long and weighs 5 pounds. Very popular with Collectors. Also with Tartar Sauce. (4) The Egyptian Camel Fish. This Species is without a doubt the Aquarists' favorite. It can go for several months without sand. Incidentally, these fish are definitely not for sale. Lucky for you!

EL CIELO ROAD, looking south to Highway 111, shows the importance of the gas tax use and maintenance and up-grading project proposed to the city council by Director of Public Works Frank Hamerschlag. In the foreground is the present widened section of El Cielo, running into Sunny Dunes Road. The program proposes to pave El Cielo to the highway, subject to the city getting rights-of-way and making arrangements for flood control. The proposal will run the street from McCallum Way to Highway 111, making it one of the major cross-streets in Palm Springs. (Sun Photo).

Long Range Program of City Street Projects Presented for Council Consideration, Okeh

Director of Public Works Frank Hamerschlag this week presented to the City Council a proposed program for street maintenance and reconstruction projects, which marks the first such action in the city's history.

The program, as submitted by the director, covers two phases of street programs—repair and up-keep of present streets, and the future use of gas tax funds for new streets.

HAMERSCHLAG ASKED for approval of all or part of the program, and pointed out that this would constitute the first phase of a long term program of maintaining and upgrading streets.

He listed five streets for the City Council to consider for expenditure of gas tax funds, and asked that these be considered in conjunction with the maintenance program.

THE STREETS are: El Cielo Road, between McCallum Way and Ramon Road, half a mile long, paved 30 feet wide for an estimated cost of $9,000. El Cielo Road, between Sunny Dunes and Highway 111—subject to rights of way, drainage and highway construction—three fourths of a mile long, 30 feet wide, at an estimated cost of $20,000.

Vista Chino, between Indian Avenue and Sunrise Way, subject to rights of way, one mile long, 30 feet wide, at an estimated cost of $45,000; Sunny Dunes, between Palm Canyon Drive and Sunrise Way, one mile long, 40 feet wide with curbs and gutters, at an estimated cost of $45,000; and Alejo Road, between Indian Avenue and Sunrise Way, subject to rights of way, one mile long, 30 feet wide, at an estimated cost of $20,000. The total cost of the above program will run approximately $114,000.

THE CITY OF Palm Springs in October, 1956, had a total of 74.76 miles of roads paved within the city limits, with a total of 120.63 miles of roads in the city. Only 11.9 miles are unpaved streets.

Recommended by the Public Works Director for Maintenance and up-grading are the following streets, which are listed as having one or more of the following factors:

(A) Drainage problem; (B) pavement preservation; (C) width of pavement; (D) base conditions; (E) surface irregularities; (F) structural defects. Each of the streets listed will be followed by a trouble factor as well as the estimated amount of cost of repair.

INDIAN AVENUE at Indian Mineral Springs—D—$3,600; Araby Drive Crossing—F—$3,600; Calle Palo Fierro and Sunny Dunes—A, F—$1,000; Via Salida at Sonora Road—A—$1,700; Vista Chino west of Palm Canyon Drive and Vista Chino between Palm Canyon Drive and Indian—B, C—$1,130; El Alameda between Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue—B—$470.

Paseo El Mirador, between Indian Avenue and Via Miraleste—B, C, E—$3,180; Tachevah Drive between Palm Canyon and Indian—F—$2,400; Tachevah Drive, between Caballeros and Hermosa Drive—R, C, E—$3,320; Tachevah Drive between Anza and Sunrise—B, C, E—$1,600; Tahquitz Drive, between Palm Canyon Drive and Indian—B, C—$2,300; South Palm Canyon Drive for 3,850 feet—A, B, C, F—$4,300.

INDIAN AVENUE, one mile north of Vista Chino—B, C—$12,750; Tamarisk, between Indian and Sunrise—A, B, C, E—$5,100; Tachevah, between Indian Avenue and Via Miraleste—B, E—$3,400; Linda Vista to Pasatiempo, a drainage channel—A—$600; Belardo, between Amado and Alejo—B, C—$2,780; Alejo, between Palm Canyon and cemetery—B, C—$1,250; Merito Place, from Palm Canyon West 190 feet—B, C—$420; Amado, from Palm Canyon to Belardo—B, F—$400; Tahquitz, from Palm Canyon to west end—B, E—$3,780.

Cabulla, between Tahquitz and Arenas—A, B—$2,380; Arenas, from Palm Canyon to west end—A, B, C, E—$9,400; Belardo, between Tahquitz and Arenas—B (eventually E, F)—$390; Belardo, between Arenas and Baristo—B, C, E—$2,090; Belardo, between Baristo and Ramon—B, C—$3,600; Andreas, between Palm Canyon and Indian—B, E—$560; Amado, between Palm Canyon and Indian—B, E—$560; Ramon, between Palm Canyon and Indian—B, E—$1,000; and Tamarisk, between Palm Canyon and Indian—B, E—$580.

These factors total $80,580, making the total proposed street program $194,580.

IT WAS SCHOOLDAY for Palm Springs police officers and clerks as John Peper, right, state director of peace officer training, department of education, conducted daily classes on newest police methods and procedures. Looking on is Capt. Orest Johnson, left. The classes were divided into morning and afternoon sessions so all officers and clerical personnel were able to participate.

Post Office Keeps on Modernizing But Lacks Funds, Postmaster Says

More people are familiar with the post office than with any other Federal agency, although most of them regard it as a trusty but old-fashioned and inefficient servant. Postmaster Merritt Williams said today.

"Periodically the people see this old retainer kicked around in Congress," Williams said. "They hear of its recurring deficits and sometimes experience its minor failures when a letter goes astray. But the dynamic part played by the post office in the growth of our country is not generally understood."

The postmaster said, "The question is: How much does the average American really know about postal service operations or about efficiency increases during the past few years?"

MOST PEOPLE are aware of some of the changes such as the new red-white-and-blue trucks and letter boxes and the new uniforms for carriers, but those changes are just as indication of more significant changes within the postal organization, the postmaster said. "Actually, the past few years have been a period of extensive and dramatic reorganization which has hurdled over thinking and methods cherished for generations in the postal service. It has been a daring attempt to gear the postal service to the age of jet propulsion and electronic computers," he declared.

WILLIAMS COMMENTED that there is always resistance to change in some quarters which results in criticism. In addition, he said, changes in the postal service have to be made on such a vast scale that there are bound to be a few rough spots and mistakes.

"Over-all, however," the postmaster said, "the efficiency of the Post Office Department has made tremendously impressive gains, and greater efficiency means more economical operations."

One proof of greater efficiency, he said, is the fact that an increased volume of mail is handled by fewer employees. In fiscal year 1952, the mail volume was approximately 49.9 billion pieces and there were 323,752 postal employees. In 1956, mail volume was up to 56.4 billion pieces, but the number of postal employees was down to 308,567.

ANOTHER PROOF of greater efficiency, according to the postmaster, is contained in the reductions made in postal deficits. In fiscal year 1952 the deficit was $720 million. Since that time increased postal operating expenses have included pay raises and other employee benefits voted by Congress and railroad rate increases authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Despite the increased cost the annual postal deficit has been reduced from the 1952 figure, and the reductions are impressive when one takes into account the higher costs over which postal management had no control.

POSTMASTER Williams said, "One of the major developments which has resulted in greater postal efficiency was the decentralization of postal management into 15 semi-autonomous regions. The action was taken as a result of recommendations by the Hoover Commission, but postal decentralization had been urged in various other reports during the past 30 years."

"Because it is new, the establishment of regional postal management has been a target of criticism and the program has been attacked on charges that it has created new and unnecessary expenses in postal management. The financial results and achievements speak for themselves as to the fact that regionalization has more than paid its own way through savings made possible by closer and better management supervision and understanding of local problems."

"WE IN THE Palm Springs Post Office have found regionalization to be a valuable help to us in our efforts to improve mail service to the people of this area. We are in frequent contact with officials in the District Office at San Diego and we receive a great deal of cooperation and help in specialized fields from officials at regional headquarters in San Francisco," Williams said.

Stated in simple terms, the postmaster said, the reorganization of the Post Office Department has been a courageous effort to adapt the postal service in all its phases to this present-day era of airlifts, television, super highways and colossal shopping centers.

THE RECORD shows, he said, that the Post Office Department has played a pioneering, even revolutionary, role in national development. In moving the mail it helped to open America's western frontiers and gave important assistance to the development of railroads and airlines.

Today the Department is taking part in another significant development — automation — as it mechanizes tasks which for centuries have been manual. Mechanization of postal operations has been given high priority and the handling of mails is on the threshold of dramatic changes.

City of Blythe Bond Issues Set On County Ballot

Consolidation of the county's June 11 special election with the City of Blythe special election was approved by a three to two vote of the board of supervisors this week, with Supervisor Paul Anderson and Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain voting against the approval.

"We'd do Blythe a favor if we didn't let them put their bond issues on our ballot," commented Anderson.

ANDERSON APPARENTLY referred to an opinion expressed by County Clerk Gordon Pequegnat in a lengthy report on the proposal. Pequegnat explained that the county will have two issues at the top of the ballot designated as "county building bonds," and "county land acquisition bonds."

Without anything in between to segregate them from the county measures, the Blythe measures will be on the ballot, merely as "bond proposition No. 1," "bond proposition No. 2," and "bond proposition No. 3." This, opined Pequegnat, may result in some confusion or misunderstanding among the voters.

THE BLYTHE BOND issues are for three separate projects, a municipal building, a fire station, and a police department and jail, but will not so appear on the ballot.

"Since the titles of these propositions have been designated by the city, presumably in the exact language which the city desires them to appear, we would advise against any change or tampering with the titles," said Pequegnat, "even in the interest of clarification, since we feel that such action would not be within the county's authority."

The word giraffe means "the one who moves swiftly."

Hotel Election Of Directors Set Tonight

It's election time for the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association, which Thursday night will select seven new members for its board of directors.

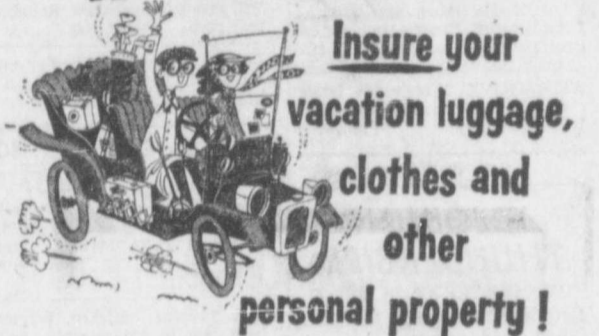

Balloting begins after an association dinner scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Oasis Hotel dining room. A cocktail party precedes the dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Seventeen candidates have been listed on the ballot posted by the nominating committee. Five incumbents are named as candidates for re-election.

The 15-member board has eight members with unexpired terms.

Even rising! Even browning!
Constantly circulating Gas heat bakes better!

UNIFORM HEAT DISTRIBUTION!
In a new Gas range oven, constantly circulating fresh air distributes the heat so that every part is always at the same temperature. There are no hot spots, no cool corners. You don't shift pans.

CONSTANT HEAT CONTROL!
Gas heat is constant—not on and off—without seesawing variations. Set the oven heat control at any specified temperature, and it maintains that temperature all during baking or roasting.

YOU SEE WHAT'S HAPPENING!
Many new automatic Gas ranges have windows in oven doors or periscope viewers so that a glance tells you how your baking is progressing. See them at your dealer or Gas Company soon.

The new GAS ranges cook faster, cleaner, cooler—cost less, too!
